

Temporary Protection from Deportation

DACA provides recipients with deferred action, which protects them from being deported or removed from the United States. This protection is valid for a two-year renewable period.

Work Authorization

Approved DACA recipients are granted work authorization, allowing them to seek employment in the United States legally.

Benefits of DACA

Social Security Benefits

DACA recipients may be eligible to receive Social Security benefits, including retirement, disability, or survivor benefits, depending on their individual circumstances and contributions.

Education Opportunities

DACA recipients may have access to in-state tuition rates at colleges and universities in some states. However, educational benefits vary depending on state laws and individual institutions.
